ROTARY SCHOLARSHIP WINNERS ATTEND JULY 4TH PARADE

Florham Park Rotary Club

Three Hanover Park High School Seniors and one Morris County School of Technology Senior were the recipients of the Florham Park Rotary Club's 2026 Scholarship Awards.

The students who were recognized for community service and "Service Above Self" were Julia Shrager, Ava Trinity and Ava Caccavelli from Hanover Park High School; and Madelyn Shanley from the Morris County School of Technology.

"This was one of our best years ever in terms of the number of students who submitted scholarship applications sharing their community involvement, volunteerism, and "Service Above Self" said Betty O'Brien, Florham Park Rotary Treasurer and Scholarship committee Chair. That's pretty special coming from a town known as a "Community of Volunteers".

The students were recently presented their award certificate and scholarship check by Rotarians Peter Nicolas, George Gregor, and club president Dave Kramer. The students and their parents will be invited to an upcoming Rotary monthly breakfast meeting.

The scholarship funds come from local residents and businesses supporting Rotary events such as the 4th of July Rotary Raffle tickets, the annual "Taste of Florham Park", and the "Florham Park Rotary Halloween Dog Parade and Costume Contest". Mark your calendars for September 22 for the Taste of Florham Park. This year's event will be held at Brooklake Country Club from 6-9 p.m.

Rotary is the world's first service organization. It is a non-partisan, non-religious organization in 200 countries via 46,000 clubs, and one of those at a Friday morning weekly meeting at the is in Florham Park. To learn more visit florhamparkrotary.org, or visit us Florham Park Diner.

HIGH PERFORMING DISTRICT DESIGNATION

The Florham Park School District has achieved the "High Performing District" designation for the third consecutive monitoring cycle under the New Jersey Department of Education's Quality Single Accountability Continuum (QSAC). As the Department of Education's comprehensive monitoring and evaluation system, QSAC consolidates state and federal accountability requirements into a single process. QSAC focuses on monitoring and evaluating school districts in five key components that have been identified by the NJDOE to be key factors in effective school districts. These components are Instruction &

Program, Fiscal, Governance, Operations, and Personnel.

"Congratulations and thank you to our incredible staff, students, families, Board of Education and the entire school community. A special thanks to the district's administration and QSAC team members for their hard work and countless hours preparing the required documentation and materials. This designation is a true testament to everyone's hard work and dedication!" Dr. Steven G. Caponegro, Superintendent of Schools, Florham Park School District.

NEW JERSEY VETERANS NETWORK MARCHES IN JULY 4TH PARADE

Michael Boll, President NJVN

The NJVN participated in the Florham Park’s 4th of July Parade and had the honor to be among numerous veterans from around the state. America is celebrating a huge milestone this year, its 250 birthday, and the NJVN is happy to join the festivities. As a veteran it brings me joy to see countless towns throughout the state celebrating our countries 250th birthday. This year the NJVN will be increasing our recreational therapy events and activities. To remain active our team could use volunteers and sponsors to help us reach veterans in need.

The NJVN team has launched an athletic equipment and outdoor game drive. We could use bicycles, kayaks, small boats, fishing equipment, hiking/camping gear, and video game systems. If you are able to donate please contact us at NJVN1775@gmail.com or call 973-332-1556.

If you would like to join the team please email us NJVN1775@gmail.com and leave your name, phone number.

COMMUNITY SUPPORTS VET'S NETWORK

County of Morris

More than 60 veterans, service providers and community organization representatives recently gathered at the Morris County Veterans Services Office in Morris Township for another successful New Jersey SOS Veterans Stakeholders meeting, focused on strengthening collaboration and support for the diverse needs of the veteran community.

The meeting brought together representatives from the U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs, the New Jersey Department of Military and Veterans Affairs, the VA New Jersey Health Care System, the County College of Morris Veterans Resource Center and numerous veteran-focused organizations, including Atlantic Health System's True North Program, American Red Cross, Catholic Charities Diocese of Paterson, Community Hope, Fairleigh Dickinson University and Morris Habitat for Humanity. Local veterans' organizations, including Morris Plains VFW Post 3401, Randolph VFW Post 7333 and Welcome Home Vets of New Jersey, also participated.

NJ SOS Veterans Stakeholders Co-founder

Ariel "AJ" Luna, a U.S. Army veteran of Operation Iraqi Freedom, announced that the "Remembering Our Fallen Moving Wall" exhibit will be to the County College of Morris Sept. 24-27, 2026. The exhibit, being displayed during the 25th anniversary of the start of the Global War on Terror, honors those who made the ultimate sacrifice while offering support to servicemembers suffering from the physical and emotional traumas brought about by the war.

The stakeholders meeting also featured updates from Christine Hellyer, director of the Morris County Office of Aging, Disabilities, and Community Programming, and Jessica Tomalo, program coordinator for the Office of Veterans Services, who highlighted ongoing efforts to expand outreach and awareness of available veteran services.

Assemblywoman Aura Dunn attended, thanking veterans for their service and recognizing the organizations that continue to support them. Representatives from the offices of U.S. Reps. Tom Kean, Jr., Analilia Mejia, and Sen. Andy Kim also participated.

4-H'ERS BRING ANIMALS TO WORK FOR SHOW AND TELL

County of Morris

A speckled white rabbit, a pair of chickens and two guinea pigs accompanied a half-dozen Morris County 4-H Club members to a recent Morris County Commissioners Work Session, where the youth shared their experiences in the 4-H program.

By all accounts, the animals stole the show, starting with 4-H Club member Khloe Terrazas lifting Luna the Lionhead rabbit out of her carrying case. After introductions, Khloe held the leash as Luna hopped around the room, delighting commissioners and greeting attendees gathered in the Knox Meeting Room.

The annual Morris County 4-H Fair, held in July, showcased the work, knowledge and skills developed by the county's 4-H youth members. The 2026 fair, held at High View Farms, featured animal displays, hands-on activities, entertainment and other traditional country fair attractions.

During the 2025-26 program year, more than 240 youth participated in 25 Morris County 4-H clubs, supported by more than 80 volunteers. In addition to clubs, the 4-H program offers multi-session events and stand-alone workshops that are open to all. Youth in kindergarten through one year out of high school are eligible to attend.

"Many people are familiar with 4-H's animal science and agriculture background but we also participate in many project areas such as STEM, creative arts, hobbies and more," said club member Raima Bera. "Through these clubs, members develop important life skills such as communication, leadership, teamwork and care for their communities."

4-H Clubs are free and open to youth in kindergarten through one year out of high school.

The program is part of Rutgers Cooperative Extension, the university's outreach arm to the community and a collaboration with the New Jersey Department of Agriculture. The organization's goal is to help distinct populations statewide to adapt to a rapidly changing society, improve lives and nourish communities through educational programs that are based in science. Learn more about Morris County 4-H at morris4h.org/home.

SUMMER READING PROGRAM IS DINO-MITE

Florham Park Public Library

A huge thank you to everyone who came out to our Summer Reading Program kick-off Touch-a-Truck event held on June 19th at the Municipal Pool parking lot and helped us kick off Summer Reading. Unearth a story was the theme this year and everyone who registered for Summer Reading could take home Dexter the Dino, our adorable stuffed travel buddy!

Special thanks to our amazing volunteers and community partners who helped make the day such a success!

There was an on-site Summer Reading registration and Summer Reading participants could earn prizes all summer long! Younger children completed BINGO challenges, while older kids read to earn spins on the library's prize wheel. Adults joined in the fun too, by turning library scratch-off tickets into raffle entries for grand prizes.
