HIGH SCHOOL'S LES MIS WINS THREE FOXY AWARDS

Morristown High School Theatre Program

Morristown High School Theatre took home three prizes at this year's Theatre Night Awards, also known as the Foxy Awards, at Montclair State University this spring. The MHS wins, all of which were for last spring's production of Les Misérables, were for Outstanding Achievement by an Acting Ensemble in a Foundational Production of a Musical, Outstanding Achievement by a Student Lighting Technician for a Musical (to senior Allyson McLoughlin and junior Samantha Huster), and Outstanding Achievement by a Student Assistant Musical Director for a Musical (to seniors Sanjna Vel and Ryan Snyder).

The Foxy Awards, which go by calendar year rather than school year and thus considered MHS's 2025 productions, nominated Morristown High School Theatre's productions of Les Misérables and Little Women for a combined 25 awards, including Outstanding Production of Foundational Musical for Les Mis and Outstanding Production of a Foundational Play for Little Women.

MHS's Les Misérables was well decorated , as well, winning the BergenPAC High School Musical awards for Outstanding Overall Musical, Best Ensemble, Best Actor in a Male-Identified Supporting Role (senior Jackson Miler as Javert), and Best Musical Direction (David Gallagher). The MHS's Les Misérables Pit Orchestra also won Outstanding Orchestra at last year's Paper Mill Playhouse Rising Star Awards, while percussionist and then-senior Aidan Orbeta was honored with Paper Mill Playhouse's Student Achievement award.

This spring's production of Fiddler on the Roof was nominated for four Paper Mill Playhouse's Rising Star Awards this year, including awards for Outstanding Performance by a Student Orchestra, Educational Impact (senior Abby Higgins), the "Theater for Everyone" Inclusion and Access Award, and the Student Achievement Award (for Technical Director Allyson McLoughlin), while senior Davnette McNamara was given an honorable mention for Outstanding Performance by a Featured Ensemble Member for her performance as Fruma-Sarah.

105TH ANNUAL INSTALLATION DINNER

Morristown Rotary Club

The Rotary Club of Morristown gathered at The Morristown Club on June 24, 2026 to celebrate its 105th Annual Installation Dinner. The event marked the official transition into the 2026–2027 Rotary year under the enduring global motto, "Service Above Self".

The evening brought together dedicated community leaders, members, and guests to reflect on a stellar year of local impact and to inaugurate the incoming leadership team that will guide the club's charitable initiatives through the coming year.

Outgoing President Aaron Oliver formally handed the leadership reins to Will Draper, who will serve as the club's President for the 2026–2027 term. In his inaugural remarks, President Draper shared his vision for expanding local service projects and strengthening fellowship within the historic club.

A cornerstone of the evening was honoring individual club members who went above and beyond to make a difference over the past year.

- Steve Ellerman was named Rotarian of the Year (2025-2026) and honored with a "Service Above Self" Award for his outstanding leadership and dedication to Rotary's Four-Way Test.
- Scott Marum was presented with the prestigious "Service Above Self" Award by outgoing President Aaron Oliver, recognizing his exemplary commitment to the club's core mission.

The club also looked toward its future growth by officially swearing in its newest Rotarian, Joe Kaiser, welcoming him into a global network of changemakers.

GENTLY USED CHILDREN'S BOOK DRIVE TO BENEFIT LOCAL YOUTH

Morristown Rotary Club

Building on a tradition that puts thousands of books into the hands of eager young readers, the Morristown Rotary Club is thrilled to announce the launch of its annual Gently Used Children's Book Drive.

The drive will officially begin on August 15th and run through September 25th.

Residents are invited to donate gently used books appropriate for children ranging from pre-school age through approximately 5th grade. Please note that textbooks cannot be accepted.

The Morristown Rotary Club has set up convenient drop-off locations throughout the community. Specially marked depository boxes will be available in the entranceways of the following expected local businesses:

- Fully Promoted - 16 Pine St, Morristown, NJ
- Peapack Private Bank and Trust - 233 South Street, Morristown, NJ

BOOKS TO BE REDISTRIBUTED AT THE FESTIVAL ON THE GREEN FOR FREE

The climax of the book drive will take place on September 27th at the highly anticipated Morristown Festival on the Green.

All collected books will be transported to the Morristown Rotary Booth, where they will be redistributed absolutely free of charge to any children attending the festival. In past years, this initiative has successfully collected and redistributed approximately 2,000 books annually, fostering a love of reading and supporting literacy throughout the community.

"Our annual book drive is a testament to the generosity of the Morristown community," said Will Draper, President of the Morristown Rotary Club. "Seeing the joy on children's faces as they pick out books to take home for free is what makes this project so rewarding. We encourage everyone to clean out their bookshelves this summer and help us match—or beat—our past record of 2,000 books."

For more information about the book drive, donation criteria, or how to get involved with Rotary initiatives, please visit morristownrotary.org or contact the club via email at morristownrotarynj@gmail.com.

ABOUT THE MORRISTOWN ROTARY CLUB

The Morristown Rotary Club is a service organization comprised of diverse community members who dedicate their time, expertise, and resources to address various community needs, promote high ethical standards, and advance goodwill and peace both locally and internationally.

4-H'ERS BRING ANIMALS TO WORK FOR SHOW AND TELL

County of Morris

A speckled white rabbit, a pair of chickens and two guinea pigs accompanied a half-dozen Morris County 4-H Club members to a recent Morris County Commissioners Work Session, where the youth shared their experiences in the 4-H program.

By all accounts, the animals stole the show, starting with 4-H Club member Khloe Terrazas lifting Luna the Lionhead rabbit out of her carrying case. After introductions, Khloe held the leash as Luna hopped around the room, delighting commissioners and greeting attendees gathered in the Knox Meeting Room.

The annual Morris County 4-H Fair, held in July, showcased the work, knowledge and skills developed by the county's 4-H youth members. The 2026 fair, held at High View Farms, featured animal displays, hands-on activities, entertainment and other traditional country fair attractions.

During the 2025-26 program year, more than 240 youth participated in 25 Morris County 4-H clubs, supported by more than 80 volunteers. In addition to clubs, the 4-H program offers multi-session events and stand-alone workshops that are open to all. Youth in kindergarten through one year out of high school are eligible to attend.

"Many people are familiar with 4-H 's animal science and agriculture background but we also participate in many project areas such as STEM, creative arts, hobbies and more," said club member Raima Bera. "Through these clubs, members develop important life skills such as communication, leadership, teamwork and care for their communities."

4-H Clubs are free and open to youth in kindergarten through one year out of high school. The program is part of Rutgers Cooperative Extension, the university's outreach arm to the community and a collaboration with the New Jersey Department of Agriculture. The organization's goal is to help distinct populations statewide to adapt to a rapidly changing society, improve lives and nourish communities through educational programs that are based in science.
